Regulatory change welcomed by Weybridge Assets

February 9, 2018/Singapore – Weybridge Assets welcomes wholesale transparency and efficiency in the equity markets. Weybridge Assets, Inc. has served their global client base since 2004.

Capital and leverage ratios set in 2014 and to be implemented during 2018 will penalize prime brokers whose securities financing operations will now be incrementally included as risk exposure that requires a capital buffer and they must now adapt the treatment of their financing and collateral in the same way as their orders.

Both hedge funds and long-only funds with prime services and custody relationships will increasingly benefit from benchmarking and surveillance of the performance of their client relationships while also allowing them to maximize their value as clients.

Weybridge Assets DOP Mr. James Tyler said "We have always delivered a transparent and unambiguous exposé regarding both the minutiae and the significant ingredients that fashion our clients' portfolios for the last 14 years, the Weybridge Assets mantra has always been about clarity and candour."

About Weybridge Assets:
